CELEBRATING INTERNATIONAL WOMEN’S DAY WITH

Women in Science

Friday 4 March 2016 at Camden Lakeside Golf & Country Club
The Ingham Institute’s Luncheon will be held on Friday 4 March 2016 celebrating International Women’s Day with a special focus on diabetes research. This approach helps our team of researchers develop new treatments and methods of care that will save lives and improve life.

Dovetailing off the success of our inaugural event, the 2nd Annual Ingham Institute Luncheon was held in 2015 with 300 community supporters who attended to honour the extraordinary talents of the Institute’s women in science. Highlighting and demonstrating this amazing talent, Ingham Institute Pancreatic Cancer Research Group Director Professor Minoti Apte achieved the NSW Premier’s Award for the NSW Woman of the Year Awards this years, with Professor Lynn Kemp coming in as a finalist for the same category. Grace Micali, a PhD student from the Institute’s Infectious & Inflammatory Diseases group, was also named a finalist for the NSW Young Woman of the Year Award.

I would like to acknowledge the generous support of our 2015 sponsors, who collectively raised a phenomenal $50,000 for the Ingham Institute’s brain injury and trauma research programs, which were profiled on the day. This includes

I would ask that you consider the 2016 Ingham Institute Luncheon when planning your 2016 philanthropic/corporate social responsibility programs. All levels of sponsorship are Tax Deductible.

Your contribution will greatly assist Ingham Institute researchers to transform their research into direct clinical benefits that will help to find better ways to treat the most common health conditions affecting South Western Sydney and beyond. I am extremely proud to represent as Patron for the Ingham Institute Luncheon. The Ingham Institute has been a long-standing passion of my father Bob Ingham AO and we as a family are honoured to continue his vision in supporting our local community.

I would like to encourage you to join us for this worthwhile event. Together we can make a difference and help save and improve lives.
